

GovTechTokyo: Digitally Transforming Government Through a New Framework

Tokyo (GovTechTokyo)

Situation (background, aims, etc.)

GovTechTokyo was established in July 2023, as a new platform involving the Tokyo Metropolitan Government, municipalities and various partners. Its aims are to promote and foster the digital transformation (DX) achievement of the entirety of Tokyo, and to speed up the digitalisation of the Tokyo Metropolitan Government.

Details (project outline, etc.)

GovTechTokyo is working with the Tokyo Metropolitan Government to achieve digitalisation across the entirety of Tokyo by providing 6 services: DX of the metropolitan government's bureaus, DX of municipalities, strengthening and standardising digital infrastructure, securing and developing digital talents, promoting data utilisation, and creating new services through public-private collaboration.

Results (features and innovations, future developments, etc.)

More than one year has passed since GovTechTokyo was established and started its operations, and it has already created quick results with each of the services it provides. We will continue to work toward the goal of making life in Tokyo and Japan in general more convenient and comfortable through the power of digital technology.
